APOSTLE URSULA WRIGHT

Dr. Ursula Wright is a prophetic voice, transformational strategist, and apostolic leader whose life's work bridges healing, leadership, and presence. With over two decades of experience developing leaders and transforming systems, she empowers people to rebuild from the inside out; spirit, soul, and structure.

As the founder of The Oxygen Company, a transformational leadership and consulting firm, and The Flame Hub, a faith-fueled equipping movement, Dr. Wright trains leaders to live from wholeness, lead from overflow, and build with integrity. Whether she's teaching leaders, mentoring visionaries, or guiding organizations through transformation, Dr. Wright's mission remains the same: to help people breathe better so they can build better everywhere they live, work, and worship.
