

A portrait of Dr. Ericka Caldwell-Clinch, a Black woman with short, curly grey hair, wearing large black-rimmed glasses and a black turtleneck top. She is smiling and has her arms crossed. The background is a soft-focus green and white.

DOCTOR ERICKA CALDWELL- CLINCH

Dr. Ericka Caldwell-Clinch is a Miami native, a product of Miami Dade County Schools (MDCPS), an academician, an administrator, a Thespian, a community advocate, but more importantly a child of God who knows that He has guided and blessed her abundantly every step of the way. Hence, she is a Christian, wife and mother, a minister, an author, a visionary, and a willing vessel.

Though Ericka's dreams and aspirations consisted of her being on the stage in California as an actress —God had other plans for her. Little did she know she was headed to another stage that would take her into the classroom to teach and touch the dramatic spirits of children. She fell in love with teaching and transformed her love for the stage to the classroom. To further prepare herself, she earned her master's degree from Nova Southeastern University in T.E.S.O.L (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) that would prepare her for a mentor principal who noted leadership abilities in her.

She listens and can get into the deepest mindsets of people, and the outcome is usually what thus said the Lord. She can and will bring one back to the reality that He lives within their souls. A member of Transformation Church under the pastoral leadership of the Pastor Xavier L. Jones, Dr. Caldwell-Clinch serves on the ministerial staff there and serves in whatever capacity necessary. She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and The Coconut Grove Negro Women's Club, Inc. Ericka believes in giving back and does countless volunteerism where and when possible.

Among the many gifts God has blessed her with are the gifts of being a wife to Stacy M. Clinch and a mother to Sanaya and Joshua. Much awaits the emergence of this preacher, teacher, actor, director, entrepreneur, Christian writer, and much more. She launched her first book in May 2018, her second book in September 2023. She has also gone on to release several e-books on marriage restoration. Her mission is to simply wait on the Lord and touch lives as He has touched hers.